As we have enjoyed an envied Freedom and Prosperity since the Accession of your Royal House to the Throne,

Throne, ſuch as no other Nation can boaſt, nor Hiſtory records, we cannot but teſtify our Joy at the Proſpect of the Increaſe of the Princes of your auguſt Houſe, and from thence preſage the Stability and Continuance of the Bleſſings we now poſſeſs, to ourſelves, and lateſt Poſterity.

That the Divine Providence, under whoſe immediate Protection good and benificent Princes reign, may ſhower down upon your Majeſty and your Royal Conſort the utmoſt Felicity, and that you may long reign the Joy and Delight of your People, are the ardent Vows of your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects.

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Merchants and principal Inhabitants of the Burgh of Great Yarmouth, humbly beg Leave to preſent our ſincere Congratulation upon the late auſpicious Event of your Majeſty's Marriage.

We wiſhed for it as a public Bleſſing, before we knew of the Name of the illuſtrious Princeſs, whoſe Virtues have exalted Her to your Majeſty's Affection and Throne. We ſhould have rejoiced moſt cordially, if only your Majeſty's private Happineſs had been conſulted. Nothing that affects the Heart of ſo great and good a King can be indifferent to his People. But we have a gracious Declaration from your Majeſty, That you conſidered your Subjects as deeply intereſted in this important Change of your Life. The Stability of their Happineſs appears to have been preſent to your Royal Mind, when you was forming Deſigns for your own. All Europe will applaud the Wiſdom of your Choice, whilſt your grateful Subjects enjoy the Benefits of it.

We had abundant Reaſon, Sir, to expect a happy and glorious Reign from a Prince, whoſe Anceſtors were Friends to Liberty, whoſe Royal Parents had inſpired Him with Patriotiſm, and whoſe Heart and Temper are formed for univerſal Benevolence.

Our Hopes are now extended beyond the utmoſt Bounds of human Foreſight. Your Majeſty has left us nothing to wiſh, but the Continuance of your preſent Happineſs; and that you may live to ſee and educate a Race of princes, worthy of their illuſtrious Birth, and qualified, like your Majeſty, to rule over a brave and loyal People.

We have experienced the admirable Influence of the Virtues of a great Princeſs, in the Piety and Humanity, which were the early Ornaments of your Royal Character. Your Majeſty has now given us a farther Aſſurance of Happineſs to ourſelves and our Poſterity, by the Union of your Hereditary and Perſonal Excellencies with thoſe of your Royal Conſort, of whoſe amiable Endowments we need no other Demonſtration, than that they have attracted the Heart of the greateſt and the beſt Monarch in the World.

Profeſſions of Loyalty are the Duty of Subjects at the Commencement of every Reign; but the Wiſdom of your Majeſty's Councils and your diſtinguiſhed Goodneſs of Heart, have made ſuch Impreſſions upon your People, that we ſpeak the Language of Nature, not of Cuſtom, in declaring, that our Loyalty is better founded than in Duty, for your Majeſty hath founded it in our Affections.

May your preſent Happineſs, and that of our moſt gracious Queen, continue to the longeſt poſſible Duration of human Life, and may your Royal Deſcendants rule as wiſely over our lateſt Poſterity, as it is your Majeſty's Glory to rule over our Hearts and Minds.

May the Great God above long preſerve your Majeſty and your Royal Conſort, to enjoy the Fruits of your bleſſed Nuptials in a numerous Progeny, and all Conjugal Happineſs. May your Majeſty long continue the Defender of our Faith, and Maintainer of our Civil Rights: May you be not only the Joy of your own Subjects, as you now are, but the Support of your Allies, and the Terror of your Enemies; the Protector of the Liberties of Europe; the Guardian of the Proteſtant Intereſt, and a common Bleſſing to Mankind: And when, being full of Years, and full of Glory, you ſhall be gathered to your Fathers to take Poſſeſſion of an Eternal Crown, may your Temporal Crown deſcend peaceably on your Royal Offſpring; and may there never be wanting a Succeſſion of Princes of your Illuſtrious Houſe, to ſway the Scepter of theſe Kingdoms to the lateſt Poſterity.
